

2007 Anderson Valley Pinot Noir

91 POINTS - January 19, 2009

“We liked a number of new Pinots, including the 5 Points 2007 Anderson Valley bottling... Firm, concentrated and full-bodied, with an underlying richness and minerality that's compelling, joining firm wild berry, blackberry and fresh earth notes, ending with structured tannins. Drink now through 2014.—J.L.”

2005 White Hawk Syrah

87 POINTS - 2008 Website

“Tangy, zesty wild berry flavors have a refreshing herbal side, with a hint of orange peel. Good intensity and balance, with gingerbread and cigar spices on the finish. Drink now through 2012. —MW”

5 Points Cellars, founded in 2006, hand crafts micro lots of wines from some of the finest vineyards in California, Oregon and Washington states. The 5 Points focus is on traditional, low intervention winemaking that honors the true expression of each of the select vineyard sites. The wines are aged in 100% new French oak barrels and tended to by a team of veteran winemakers, Kian Tavakoli, Chris Nelson and Jonathan Borreson, at Crushpad, a custom crush facility in San Francisco, California.

For founders, Charles and Julie Atkins, 5 Points represents a magical meeting point -- wine that celebrates the intersection of life's joys of adventure, service, faith and friendship.
