

2007 La Encantada Vineyard Pinot Noir

Tasting Highlights: California Pinot Noir

25 impressive wines—including some solid values—
from Santa Barbara and the Central Coast

James Laube

Posted: Monday, June 08, 2009

THINK TANK Pinot Noir Sta. Rita Hills La Encantada Vineyard 2007
Score: 88 / $60

“A rich, savory style, with dried herb, sage, currant and wild berry fruit that slowly unfolds from its tannic shell to reveal greater depth and dimension. Quite tannic now. Best from 2010 through 2015. 200 cases made. —J.L”

Think Tank® Wine Company is dedicated to creating world-class wines from select single-vineyard locations; wines that display both true varietal characteristics and promote environmental responsibility. From organic vineyards to low impact production to bottling with eco-friendly materials, Think Tank uses sustainable sources. Founded in 2007 by home winemaker and marketing professional, Michael Giarraputo, the company was born of the idea that great wines should serve as a steward of our environment, not take from it. For more information, visit www.thinktankwine.com.